Helpful Information for Visitors

The LBJ Presidential Library welcomes guests from all over the world. Elevators in our central lobby make every exhibit easily accessible. Video presentations are closed-captioned for the hearing impaired. If you’re traveling to Austin from out of town, please visit The Austin Convention and Visitors Bureau website, which provides excellent resources and information for planning your trip to Austin, including flights, hotels, rental cars, and other attractions in the Austin area.

Transportation

Transportation to the LBJ Presidential Library is available from the airport by bus, taxi or shuttle. Information regarding the Super Shuttle is available here or by calling local reservations at (512) 258-3826, or out of area reservations at (800) 258-3826. Some hotels provide a shuttle if requested in advance.

Capitol Metro (public transportation in Austin) provides limited service between UT and the downtown area and airport. One of the stops is at San Jacinto Street and 26th Street, near the Library. Route and schedule information can be found here. The bus is called the #100 Airport Flyer. It runs approximately every 30 minutes.

The Forty Acres bus line provides limited service between the Library and The University of Texas campus.

Accommodations

Overnight accommodations are within walking distance of the Library. In addition, several national chains have hotels or motels which are short drives from the Library. A list of nearby hotels is available upon request. Several restaurants are a short drive away from the Library, and snacks and meals are available on weekdays at the Joe C. Thompson Conference Center cafeteria behind the Library, or at O’s Café in the LBJ School lobby next door.

Parking

Parking for the LBJ Presidential Library is always free in the designated parking lot 38. Lot 38 features an entrance flanked by brightly colored LBJ Library banners. Please note that there are several University of Texas permit-only parking lots next to our guest parking, and parking in those permit-only lots may result in fines.

Map and Directions

The LBJ Presidential Library is located on the campus of The University of Texas, just off Interstate 35. Directions from Interstate 35:

- From north-bound IH-35, just past the 15th Street exit, move to either of the left 2 lanes to take the lower deck.
- From south-bound IH-35, just past the 51st Street exit, move to either of the left 2 lanes to take the lower deck.
- Take the Manor Road Exit (exit 235B).